

CLAIM

1. In a funnel, comprising:

A cylinder for transferring gas from a container to the gas tank which the upper portion is a heavy duty plastic circular cone that narrows at the base. The lower portion is a durable plastic gas cap with a hole drilled through the center. The gas cap has grips around the outer side for on/off ease.

Whereas this adapted plastic cylinder, applied together with a regular sized riding lawn mower gas cap is designed to provide safety and convenience.